

When you need me

When you need me, just look up to the sky
You will see me with the stars so high
Watching you from any harm and protect
I am much nearer than you expect
Even if days separate us one day
I will find you, I will find some way
Don't think of tomorrow, It is still away
Any word of separation, never say
The day will come and unite us again
And catch our happiness and forget pain
