

Phases of Realities

Many wash hands in pains,
Many dine with evils,
Many live in distrust,
Yet serve God with expectations.
Many don't believe in truth anymore,
Lies become success standard,
Lewdness is ticket to stardom
And the value of education is misplaced.
Homes and marriages are in disarray,
Children now sets standard in homes,
Discipline is sold to petting
While the church welds and mends
Even the church lacks morality in leadership,
Members make mockery of preachers,
Many seek for army of sympathizers
Yet the preachers remained patient in faith.
Phases of life is determined by choice
And the application process to live.

Salvation Is a Choice

Salvation is God's desire
For humanity,
Only the ready at heart
Will have it.
It's supernatural,
Mercy and love gave us salvation,
Humanity can't describe his divinity.

So stunning is man's attitude
Towards divinity for they understand
Not His purpose...
If you human wears naturality
Never can you attain spirituality,
Nor access the depth of divinity.
Man must seek God's face
In truth and deeds,
Find the scripture
In it lies your future.
Man can't stand alone
Man requires divinity,
Man must walk in the ways
Of the scripture for his salvation.

Love's Freedom

Love lives in the heart of faith,
I found me a Jewel that sings like an angel,
Her voice melts away my pain,
She plays the guitar with passion
That leaves me in the Love's ocean.
My loneliness is no more,
Her voice of fellowship is path to freedom,
Such freedom houses godliness.
Play on my Jewel, sing your heart out,
Never will I forget your virtues,
I speak of you in the heights of trust,
Your love makes me strong,
Am holding on with a great charm

From the lyrics of Love's freedom.

Love's freedom, we must seek

From the Creator's Manual.

David Chukwudi Njoku is a Nigerian faith preacher, poet, writer and music lover. He hails from Umuoriete, from the Eastern part of Nigeria. Presently, he resides in Lagos.

The Pangolin Review; Issue 7, 8 November 2018